VOL. XVIII.]

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1818.

[No. 5126.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALIGANT FEVERS
is recommended
HARRIS' ANT-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be expressed in pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obsteinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, cat-arrhs, and approaching consumptions.— To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Violent cramps in Consumptions, the stomach and Looseness of spirits, back Loss of appetite, Indigestion Impurity of blood, Melancholy Hysterical affection, Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses, Pains in the limbs and debility, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent materials the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, scabiness, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of noxious work, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines, the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1816.

PAIRING TIME ANTICIPATED.

A FABLE.
I shall not ask Jean-Jacques Rousseau If birds confabulate or no;
To clear that they are always able To hold discourse, at least in fable;
And even the child, who knows no better Than to interpret by the latter A story of a cock and bull, Must have a most uncommon skill.

It chanc'd, then, on a winter's day, But warm and bright, and calm as May,
The birds conceiving a design To forestall sweet St. Valentine, In many an orchard, copse and grove Assembled on affairs of love,
And with much twitter and much twitter Began to agitate the matter.

At length, a Ballinch, who could boast More years and wisdom than the most,
Retreated, opening wide his beak,
A moment's liberty to speak;
And silence publicly enjoin'd, Deliver'd briefly thus his mind:

"My friends, be cautious how you treat
The subject upon which we meet;
I fear we shall have winter yet."

A Finch, whose tongue knew no control, With golden wing and satin pole,
A last year's bird, who never had tried What marriage means, thus port replied: "Methinks the gentleman (quoth she) Opposite in the apple-tree, By his good will would keep us single Till yonder heaven and earth should mingle—Or (which is likelier to befall) [gle, Till death exterminates us all:
I'll marry without more ado—My dear Dick Redcap, what say you?"

Dick heard, and twaddling, eglings, brid-dles, [ing,
Turning short round, strutting and side-Astoned glad his approbation.
Of an immediate conjugation.
Their sentiments, so well expressed, Influenc'd mightily the rest;
All pair'd, and each pair built a nest.

But though the birds were thus in haste,
The leaves came on not quite so fast,
And destiny, that sometimes tears An aspect stern on man's affairs, Not altogether smil'd on theirs.

The wind, of late breath'd gently forth, Now whistled East and East by North; Bare trees and shrubs but ill you know,
Could shelter them from rain or snow;
Stepping into their nests, they paddled, Themselves were chill'd, their eggs were addled;
Soon every father bird and mother Grew quarrelsome and peck'd each other, Parted without the least regret, (Except that they had ever met)
And learn'd in future to be wiser Than to neglect a good adviser.

Misses! the tale that I relate,
This lesson seems to carry—Choose not alone a proper mate, But proper time to marry.

*It was one of the whimsical speculations of this philosopher, that all fables which ascribe reason and speech to animals should be withheld from children, as being only vehicles of deception. But what child was ever deceived by them, or can be, against the evidence of his senses?

From the New-York Evening Post.
The spirit of prophecy could not more clearly anticipate the issue of the French revolution, than in portraying it in the early apprehensions of Hamilton, in the following letter.

Letter from Alexander Hamilton, Esq. to the Marquis de la Fayette.

New-York, 6th October, 1793.
My Dear Marquis,
I have seen with a mixture of pleasure and apprehension the progress of the events which have lately taken place in your country. As a friend to mankind and to liberty, I rejoice in the efforts which you are making to establish it, while I fear much for the final success of the attempts, for the fate of those who are engaged in it, and for the danger, in case of success, of innovations greater than will consist with the real felicity of your nation. If your affairs still go well when this reaches you, you will ask why this foreboding of ill, when all the appearances have been so much in your favor—I will tell you —I dread disagreement among those who are now united, (which will be likely to be improved by the adverse party) about the nature of your constitution: I dread the vehement character of your people, whom I fear you may find it more easy to bring on than to keep within proper bounds, after you have put them in motion:— I dread the interested refractoriness of your nobles, who cannot all be gratified, and who may be unwilling to submit to the requisite sacrifices; and I dread the reveries of your philosophic politicians, who appear in the moment to have great influence, and who being mere speculators, may aim at more refinement than suits either with human nature or the composition of your nation.

These, my dear Marquis, are my apprehensions. My wishes for your personal success and that of the cause of liberty, are incessant. Be virtuous—amidst the seductions of ambition, and you can hardly in any event be unhappy. You are combined with a great and good man: You will anticipate the name of Necker. I trust that you and he will never cease to harmonize.

You will I presume have heard before this gets to hand, that I have been appointed at the head of the finances of this country: this event I am sure will give you pleasure. In undertaking the task, I hazard much, but I thought it an occasion that called upon me to hazard. I have no doubt that the reasonable expectation of the public may be satisfied, if I am properly supported by the legislature, and in this respect I stand at present on the most encouraging footing.

I wrote you last by Mons. de Var-ville. I presume you received my letter. As it touched delicate points, I should be glad to know its fate.
Yours, with unalterable esteem and affection,

A. HAMILTON.
The Marquis de la Fayette.

From a Greenock paper, Nov. 19.
The following is an account of a successful defence performed by Captain Glashan, of the brig Margaret, against a pirate, on the 14th October, the day after leaving St. Thomas's.

At 9 P. M. a cutter rigged vessel came bearing down from windward, and hailed us, ordering us to heave to, at the same time crossing our stern; on our demanding who he was, he immediately fired on board of us, carrying away a part of our running rigging, again hailed, and ordered us instantly to send our boat on board. Being rather unprepared to make resistance so unexpectedly, the boat was lowered down and the master proceeded alongside with his papers, and was questioned concerning his cargo, and if he had not a quantity of dollars on board, and was extremely anxious for information regarding American vessels, apparently wishing to fall in with them.— Wishing to know what he was, Captain Glashan enquired if he was not an Independent privateer; he bluntly, and without much hesitation answered, Yes; ordering him on board again, and to lie to till morning when he would board him. Immediately on getting on board, with the advice and assistance of Mr. Stretch and Mr. Llewellyn, passengers, we resolved to defend the vessel with our lives, being convinced that they were determined pirates. Got our guns in order, when she came up alongside of us in the morning, under French colors, and again fired into us—hauling down his French, and hoisting a red flag, (the signal we supposed for boarding,) when we gave him such a reception as he little expected, a well directed fire from our two nine pounders, which were loaded close up to their muzzles, with round and grape, and cooper's rivets; soon after which, we nearly cleared his deck of all the men. On our choosing him in the smoke, he instantly dropped the peak of his main-sail, wore round, and made the best of his way towards the land. We made sail after him, still firing into him, but from his superior sailing, he soon distanced us, or we should have captured him, as only three men appeared on deck, the reminder killed or wounded. She was a square sterned, cutter-rigged vessel, had a long gun mounted on her forecastle, manned with at least twenty five men, Spaniards, Dutch and Blacks, all well armed, painted black, with a white moulding, white buttons, and a trunk upon the deck, similar to what American pilot-boats usually had, and about 40 tons.

ALEXANDRIA SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1816.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WAR-INGTON.

Friday, January 16, 1816.

I have the satisfaction to announce to you the triumph of reason and correct principle, over the attempts of infatuation and error. The important question whether congress has power to punish contempt, has at length been decided in the affirmative, by a succession of majorities of nearly three to one. Yesterday Mr. Pitkin took a view of the resolutions proposed by Mr. Spencer, and of Mr.
Rhea's amendment, and placed them in such light as to show that the house had got into a dilemma, out of which there was but one way of extricating it. It was, he said, unusual to place on the Journals the reasons of passing any act or resolution, or to pass a declaration expressive of the general power of the house; nor had any such declaration ever been made; but the house had always proceeded to act in the case before them, whatever it might be. The amendment in this case, he observed, was declaratory of the power of the house to punish for contempts, and the honorable gentleman who proposed, refused to withdraw it; so that if the question were put upon it and it should be negative, it might hereafter be construed into an admission that the house had not the power to punish for contempts.—That therefore the only way to get rid of the difficulty was to postpone the resolutions indefinitely, which was in fact to negative them agreeably to the rules of the house, without coming to any decision on the amendments, and thus the whole would fall to the ground together. He therefore moved that the resolutions should be indefinitely postponed. On this proposition, Mr. Rhea made some short observations, which we did not hear, and Mr. Rich wishing to be informed what the effects of the postponement would really be, the speaker informed the house that if the resolutions should be indefinitely postponed, the whole would be precisely where it stood before they were offered.

On motion, it was determined to take the question of indefinite postponement by ayes and noes—and being put, there were

The resolutions therefore were lost, and with them fell to the ground all the amendments.

Mr. Tallmadge then moved that John Anderson should be forthwith brought to the bar of the house.

Mr. Beecher said that before the prisoner was brought in, the house ought to decide upon the questions to be put to him.

Mr. Holmes objected to this that it was unnecessary, as Colonel Anderson had written a letter to the house, in which he proposed to put interrogatories in writing himself, and had besides got copies of all the papers.

Mr. Calbraith then offered a resolution declaring that the house had no power to punish, and that, therefore, John Anderson should be discharged.

The question on this motion, too, was taken by ayes and noes, and negative:

The question was then taken by ayes and noes on the motion to bring in John Anderson to the bar of the house, and was carried.

Colonel Anderson was then brought to the bar, and gave in a list of several witnesses, of whom general Harrison, colonel Watson, the honorable colonel Johnson, member for Kentucky, and two or three others, whose names we failed to catch, were examined by colonel Anderson himself. The object for which he produced them was to testify to his character, and they gave the most satisfactory evidence of his being a person of great influence in his state, which he exerted to the utmost for the defence of the country, and distinguished for integrity, gallantry as a soldier, and patriotism.

The examination will again be proceeded in this morning.

rived at the Point on Wednesday eve-whole was performed by seven days.

It is a singular fact, that the crown of England may, as a London editor remarks, devolve eventually on the head of the son of Jerome Bonaparte. The London editor proceeds to remark, it is hoped that parliament will pass a special act to prevent so deplorable a calamity.

THE PRINCESS CHARLOTTE.
From London papers received at the office of the Boston Palladium.

The funeral of the Princess Charlotte of Wales took place on the evening of the 19th of November. It was attended by a long procession, and conducted with a funeral service. The body of the princess was placed in a mahogany coffin, that inclosed in one of lead, which was put in an outer coffin of mahogany, covered with crimson velvet, and formed into panels with white plated nails, the lining of white satin. An urn containing the heart of the princess was placed in a mahogany case. The coffin of the infant were like those of the parent.

The principal prelates of the church of England have paid visits of condolence to the prince regent and prince Leopold; funeral sermons have been delivered in nearly all the places of divine worship—and the day of the funeral was marked in most of the towns with appropriate ceremonies.

It is proposed in England to erect by public subscription, a monument to the memory of the deceased princess. This idea was noticed in the following lines:

Raise not an urn of sculptur'd art That perisheth with years!—
Her monument's each British heart!
Her epitaph—their tears!

A funeral service was performed in the Jewish Synagogue in London.

A funeral service on the death of the Princess Charlotte of Wales, was performed at the Protestant Church in Brussels—the English present were in deep mourning. A part of the church was hung with black.

At Paris, on the day of the funeral of the Princess Charlotte, all the English there shut themselves up in their apartments.

A funeral service was afterwards performed by the English Catholics in Paris. The French court ordered mourning to be worn eleven days.

A Government Messenger has been sent from England to the Princess of Wales in Italy, to inform her of the death of her daughter.

throne, being married and having children, are the king of Wurtemberg, Prince Paul his brother, and the Princess Frederica Bonaparte, their sister, wife to Jerome Bonaparte.

INDIAN WAR.
Extract of a letter from an officer of the Army to a member of Congress.

Fort Hawkins, Dec. 29.
I shall set out to-morrow or next day for Fort Scott to join the first brigade now assembled at that post. The militia, consisting of one regiment of infantry and two troops of cavalry, amounting in the whole to about 700 men, under the command of brigadier general Glascock, are on the march, by the way of Hartford, to a point on the Flint River, distant about sixty miles from Fort Scott, where they will erect a small work and remain until the arrival of general Gaines, who is in the neighborhood of St. Mary's. No offensive operations will take place until a junction is formed by our troops. A sergeant and three men arrived yesterday express from Fort Scott, which is the first communication from the post since the arrival of general Gaines. From the partial success the Indians have already met with, they have become more daring than ever, and are daily augmenting in numbers; and I much fear, unless the general obtains an additional force to that already contemplated, the campaign will not close this winter.

You will see by the enclosed duplicate letter from the commanding officer at Fort Scott what may be expected in that quarter.

Fort Scott, Dec. 19.

Sir—Should you receive this letter soon, I presume it will be on your way to this post. I will, therefore, not attempt to give you a detailed account of our situation, but at once state that you may consider all the Indians south and east of this at war with the United States, and great numbers of the old Red Sticks are joining them daily from the Chatahouchee.
You cannot reach this in safety without having a good guide and using the greatest caution, or being escorted by a strong detachment.

General Gaines has made a requisition on the contractor at Fort Hawkins for provisions to be delivered at this post.
Do all you can to have them forwarded soon, as we have not a supply of more than twenty days' rations of meat, and flour for about double that time. Beef cattle could be brought here from above on this river, if escorted by a strong detachment of dragoons.

I am, sir, respectfully,
M. ARBUCKLE,
Lt. col. commanding
Col. David Beasley, Fort Hawkins.

AMELIA ISLAND.
DOCUMENTS ACCOMPANYING THE MES-SAGE OF THE PRESIDENT TO CON-GRESS, ON THE 12TH INSTANT.

Department of War,
January 12, 1816.

Sir—I have the honor to transmit copies of the orders which have been given by the acting secretary of war to major Bankhead, in relation to taking possession of Amelia Island, and copies of the communications which have been made to this department by that officer, which embrace all the information in my possession.

I have the honor to be, sir, with the highest respect, your most obedient servant,
J. C. CALHOUN,
The President of the U. States.

U. States' ship John Adams, off Amelia, Dec. 22, 1817.

Sir—We have received orders from our government to take possession of Amelia Island and to occupy the post of Fernandina with a part of our force, which will be moved over as soon as it will be convenient for your troops to evacuate it.

To avoid unnecessary delay, we think proper at this time to inform you, in the event of your acquiescence in this demand, that you will be at liberty to depart with the forces under your command, and such property as belongs unquestion-ably to them will be held sacred.

You are to leave the public property found by general McGregor at Fernandina in the same condition it was taken, and the property of the inhabitants of Amelia Island must be restored to them, where they have been forcibly dispossessed of it, and no depredations on private property from this period will be permitted with impunity.

Should you, contrary to the expectations of the President of the United States, refuse to give us peaceable possession of the island, the consequence of resistance must rest with you.

We have the honor to be, very respectfully, your most obedient servants,

J. D. HENLEY,
Capt. in the navy and comd. in chief of the naval forces of the U. S. off Amelia.

JAS. BANKHEAD,
Major 1st battalion artillery, comd.
land forces.

General Aury, commander in chief of the forces at Fernandina.

Head-quarters, Fernandina, Island
of Amelia, Dec. 22, 1817, and 8th of the Independence.

GENTLEMEN—I have had the honor to receive your official letter of this day.
The nature of its contents requiring mature deliberation, I have submitted the same to the representatives of the republic, and as soon as I shall have obtained their opinion, it shall be immediately sent to you.

I can, however, state to you, gentlemen, that no opposition will be made to surrender the island of Amelia on the part of this government.

I have the honor to remain, with consideration, gentlemen, your obedient and humble servant,
AURY,
Commander in chief.

Com. J. D. Henley, major Bankhead, &c. &c. on board the United States' ship John Adams.

Head-quarters, Fernandina, Island
of Amelia, Dec. 22, 1817, and 8th of the Independence.

GENTLEMEN—I have received your official letter of this day; by which, in the name of the government of the United States, you summon us to evacuate this place, with the troops under my command, as possession thereof is to be taken by the forces under your commands, under certain conditions therein specified.

This republic, that of Mexico, nor any other of South America, being at war with the United States, oblige me to state to you that the contents of your letter have greatly surprised this government, and the people of the state. You have nevertheless intimated that, in case of our acquiescence to your demand, we shall be permitted to evacuate this island, which never was nor ever has been a part of the United States. Allow me, gentlemen, to observe to you, that from the moment we took Fernandina by the force of our arms we entered into the full possession of all the rights appertaining to our enemy, and that to this day we have supported these rights at the risk of our lives and fortunes. The boundaries of the Floridas and the United States having been fairly settled by the treaty of friendship, limits and navigation, on the twenty-second of October, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, leave us at a loss to ascertain your authority to interfere in our internal concerns.

Our surprise increases when we reflect that your communication comes as authorized by the government of a people to glory in their respect for the rights of nations, whether great or small, and no doubt sympathize and wish success to their southern brethren in the struggle for liberty and independence, in which they are engaged, as were the United States forty years ago.

On the other side, you promise to hold sacred such of our property as unquestionably belongs to our citizens. Who is to be the judge in this case? The United States, who can, by no means, claim any kind of jurisdiction from the source of the river St. Mary's, down to the ocean, on this side of the centre of the channel? We entertain too much veneration for your constitution to believe for a single moment that you, supposed already in possession of this island, which has never been ceded by the king of Spain, or by its inhabitants, to the United States, can bring with you a competent tribunal to decide upon this question.— The only law you can adduce in your favor is that of force, which is always repugnant to republican governments and to the principles of a just and impartial nation. The same observation may be applied to your interference with the property of the inhabitants, which we have always respected and considered as sacred.

You order us, also, as if we were subjects of your government, to leave behind, when Fernandina is evacuated, all the public property that was found at its surrender. This demand is directly contrary to the public rights by which all public property captured by the enemy is avowedly that of the captors, when not otherwise stipulated. Are you acting in the name of the king of Spain or his allies?
As we consider the people of the United States to be unquestionably the only free people on the surface of the globe, we cannot admit that you have now become the adherents of a tyrant; otherwise your demand is inadmissible and unjustifiable in the eyes of the world, and if we must yield to it all the blame rests with you.

Permit me, therefore, gentlemen, to request of you, to lay before the President of the U. States these remarks, in order that a matter of so serious a tendency may be reconsidered. We have read His Excellency's Message at the opening of Congress, with the utmost concern; and have concluded that the political situation of this republic has been greatly misrepresented, in the U. States; through the intrigues of our enemies. We have certainly a right to be heard, for which purpose I shall have the honor of forwarding to your government the necessary documents.

If you are not disposed to let things remain in statu quo, until the President's further determination be known, I am authorized to assure you that we respect and esteem too highly the people of the United States to carry matters to extremities.

I have the honor to remain, with the highest consideration, gentlemen, your obedient and humble servant,
AURY,
Commander in Chief.

J. D. Henley, Esq. Captain in the Navy, and commanding the United States Naval forces off Amelia—James Bankhead, Esq. Major of the 1st battalion of artillery, United States army, and commanding Military forces.

U. S. Ship John Adams,
off Amelia Island, Dec. 25d, 1817.

Sir—We have had the honor to receive your communication of the 25d inst.
and will briefly remark that, as officers in the service of the United States, we are bound to obey the orders emanating from the authorities of our government, without any discussion or animadversion on our part as to the correctness of them.
We have been ordered by the President of the United States to take possession of Amelia Island, and as the President has expressed his solicitude that the effusion of blood may be avoided, if possible, it must be gratifying to us to be informed by you that no resistance will be made to us.

We will again remark that private property will be sacred, and that our orders extend only to the public property captured by General McGregor, at Fernandina.

We propose to land a force to-day, and to hoist the American flag. Under that flag no oppressive or unjust measures will ever be witnessed; and we are assured that there will be no difficulty in the arrangements made by us.

The squadron will immediately sail into the harbor, when the commanding officer of the land forces will wait on the gun master in chief to make the necessary arrangements for the landing of the troops.

Apply to George Barlow, or Jeremiah Bonthe, Ramsay's wharf. If the above property is not called for in a few weeks, it will be disposed of as the law directs.
GEORGE BARLOW.

Fifty Dollars Reward.
I WILL give the above reward for taking up and delivering to me in Alexandria, or lodging in jail so that I get him again, negro man WILLIAM, who eloped from Washington, D. C. (where he was hired) about 8 weeks ago. William is about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, tolerably well made, yellow complexion, large mouth, very white teeth, and to the best of my recollection a scar on his right cheek—he is very fond of drink, and when intoxicated is a great profligate and excessively noisy. His clothing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit.

James Kennedy & Son, BOOKSELLERS, KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA.
RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store,
No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES: Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenge.
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or fulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenuis or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

RELIGIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HALL'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than can be asserted.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prevent an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
